Talks: The Math/CS Department has an occasional colloquium series and there are many other speakers on campus throughout the semester. You can earn extra credit for attending talks relevant to this course — these will be announced as I hear of them. (You can get a small additional bonus for suggesting a relevant talk not part of the math/CS colloquium series.) To get credit for attending a talk, you must be present at the talk and must submit a clearly-written and substantive
